Gary,

Attached is the updated map with the "Other" wells removed. I've also added the aquifer name next to the water wells. The Drillers Report wells did not have aquifer listed in the database. All the water wells were Lower Chicot with the exception of the 125' wells which were Upper Chicot and the 500' well which was listed as Evangeline.

I've also checked the bathymetry layer and we don't have a really good one. It extends only to I-10 and only covers about half the river. There's good coverage for Galveston Bay and the Ship Channel, but once you head north it gets spotty.
